DESPERATE HORSE THIEVES

They Plunder Barns of Farmers Near Deerfield, Half Day, and Shermerville

DETECTIVES ASKED FOR HELP

Farmers Lose Many Valuable Horses, Some are Valued as High as $300. No Traces of Them to be Found

Wholesale raids of horse thieves along the Lake county border line, in strength, sweeping from village to village and leaving barn after barn, daring capture and even death in maddening by what is evidently an organized gang of thieves, have aroused the southern and western part of Lake county as never before, and at the request of the marshal of villages from Highland Park to Barrington along the border Chicago detectives have been detailed on the case, as Cook county horse owners have also suffered, and desperate attempts are being made to capture the rascals.

The last raid was made between Monday and Tuesday morning and netted the thieves ten horses' loss of which is thus far reported and possibly more.

The raid alone is the most spectacular in twenty-five years and has set the entire county agog, as nothing like it has been known since the days when the cry of horse thief was a familiar one, which it has not been for more than a quarter of a century.

No one has the slightest clue to the gang which operated between Monday night and day break Tuesday. There is not the slightest clue to them. The following, with the villages near which they are located, are however the names of looters and the value of their animals:

Shermerville—J. B. Connell, farmer mile east of village, lost two work horses, value about $600, Monday night or Tuesday morning.

John Beschel, same village, lost one valuable horse, $300, same night.

Deerfield—William Huehn, farmer, two miles west of village, lost two work horses and one carriage horse valued at $1,000 all told, same night.

Half Day—Two farmers lost two animals, the other a single animal, same night.

To cap the climax, three months ago thieves presumably the same band, swooped down upon Shermerville and stole three other horses, making twelve to date which they have netted, rivaling in boldness the acts of Masby's guerrillas of the south.

This time it was Peter Hupp of Shermerville who lost the horses. He lives two and a half miles from the village.

The last preceding thefts were a year ago, but are not believed to have anything to do with this latest bandit gang, which has everything beaten in Lake county for boldness and debonair disregard of discovery or shot gun vengeance.

It is believed by the marshalls at Deerfield and Shermerville that the thieves are strongly organized, have ample means of making a getaway, know how to handle horses, are old hands at the game, and have a way of escape marked out for them, all ready for any emergency, and they may even have an automobile or two at their command.

Naturally Filtered Water.

An English naturalist, who has explored the mountain ranges of the Malay peninsula, reports that in several species of bamboo the hollow internodes—the parts of the stems between the joints—are stored with large quantities of naturally filtered water. He also discovered two species of ferns, growing on trees whose thick, fleshy stems are filled with galleries tunneled by ants, the ferns thus forming living nests for the ants.

The Deepest Hole.

The deepest hole in the world up to date is the boring begun ten years ago at Cuchow, Silesia, with the object of attaining a depth of 2,550 metres, and which has now reached a depth of 2,240 metres (7,349 feet). The bore is 44 centimetres (17 inches) in diameter at the top and diminishes progressively to nine centimetres.

SALEM WINS VICTORY

The Town of Salem Wins Victory in Damage Suit Against it

The jubilent smile was quite common in the town of Salem last week Saturday. Everybody who had one or could borrow one, got it out, aired it, polished it up a little and then used it for decorative purposes.

For on Saturday it was announced that the town had won a big victory in its automobile suit which had been on trial before Judge Belden at Elkhorn. The victory was a sweeping one, the town being aided with by the jury in every contention on which decision was made. In his instruction to the jury Judge Belden explained that there were three points on which the jury should decide the facts. First, whether or not the road was reasonably safe for travel; second, whether or not Collier used proper care in driving the auto; third, whether the heirs of Gibson were entitled to damages.

All three points were decided in favor of the town.

Wallace Ingalls of Racine and Calvin Stewart of Kenosha were attorneys for the Gibson estate and R. V. Baker of Kenosha and Attorney Page of Elkhorn represented the town.

Witnesses for the prosecution were Collier, Mrs. Gardiner and a boy from Kenosha. Witnesses for the town included Nels Peterson, who, driving in a buggy, met the auto on the eventful night, also John Gaggin, W. J. VanDeuser, John Mütz and others. Walker Curtiss was a power for the defense. Living in the vicinity of the accident, he was acquainted with the actors in the drama and with characteristic energy he set about the assembling of witnesses to bring out the facts. The town owes him a vote of thanks.

It was found impossible however to get witnesses out of Antioch. There whose testimony would have proved most illuminating if it could have been obtained. As it was however the admission of high balls consumed were quite numerous.

Both Ingalls and Stewart put up strong pleas to the jury in the final summing up, and when it comes to persuasive talking they are there with the goods. But in this instance the task was too big. They bit off more than they could chew.

It was promptly announced that they would move for a new trial and that they would appeal the case but it hardly seems likely that any kind of legal gymnastics can regitalize life into this particular suit.

The Gibson case and its twin brother the Callier case have now held the boards in this county for about two years and have been the cause of a great amount of illfeeling on the part of the country people to city travelers in automobiles. Country people believe they have been persecuted. People in the town of Salem especially have buried beneath the stigma which it has been attempted to fasten to their roads. Whereas the truth is that the town shares with Randall and Wheatland the claim to the best roads in the county the inference has been spread broadcast that their roads were in a shocking condition. The general tendency is to lay the blame for the matter on the shoulders of the attorneys who have conducted the prosecution. Willmat Agitator.

FOX LAKE BRIDGE WAS MOVED WITH SUCCESS

Sweet & Merrell, moving contractors, successfully completed the job of moving a big steel bridge near Fox Lake recently after the work had been turned down by four other contracting firms. The bridge in question was a fifty-foot steel structure located just north of Ingleside over what is known as Squaw Creek, along the course of which a canal was being dug to connect Long Lake and Fox Lake. The bridge blocked the progress of the canal contractors, who were unable to get their big dredge past the structure and it was found necessary to move the bridge.

Four different moving contractors were asked to figure on the work and after looking over the ground three of the number refused to tackle the job. The fourth submitted figures on the work but declared he did not care to undertake the contract. Sweet & Merrell were then consulted and they took the job. The bridge was moved from its foundation one day and the following day, after the dredge had passed through, it was moved back in place, little trouble being experienced in doing the work. Sweet & Merrell have reason to feel proud of their achievement, in view of the fact that four other moving contractors were afraid to tackle the job.

OPERATOR COMMITTED SUICIDE

Relatives of the Young Man Assert That Accounts Are in Good Condition.

CAUSE OF SUICIDE UNKNOWN

Was a Man of Good Nature and Known Well Throughout That Section of the County

Despondent over the fact that he was afflicted with a chronic ailment, for which he believed there was no relief, George McNamara, 33 years of age, telegraph operator for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad at Russell, Ill., shot himself in the head, dying instantly.

McNamara had been the agent for the Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul at Russell for several years, and was well known throughout that section of the county.

Worry over his ailment, it is said, brought on an acute attack, and Dr. H. B. Young of Gurnee was called to the house Monday. Thinking a change of environment would take his mind off his cares, Dr. Young took McNamara home with him, keeping him until Tuesday morning.

Tuesday morning the doctor was called to attend a patient north of Wadsworth and took McNamara with him. The physician left McNamara in charge of the buggy and went into the house. A few minutes later he heard a shot and running out discovered the limp form of the young man, slid down from the seat of the buggy and in a heap.

He was taken to the Young home at Gurnee, where an inquest was held.

Relatives of the young man at Russell stated that there was no known cause for the act. McNamara owned property in Russell worth about $5,000 and it was stated that his accounts with the railroad were in first class shape.

The unfortunate young man was a brother-in-law of R. B. Godfrey of this place.

NEW COMPANY HAS BEEN GIVEN NAME

The new company which is to take over the electric light, power, and gas companies around Chicago will be known as the Public Service Company of Illinois. The corporation has already been formed and the charter granted at Springfield. The nominal capitalization is $1,000, but will be increased when the properties are taken over.

The merger, which is being put through by Samuel Insull and his associates, will include the North Shore Electric, the Economy Light and Power, the Illinois Valley Gas and Electric and the Kankakee Gas and Electric companies. Other concerns may also be taken into the combination later, as the company's corporate rights under its charter will be broad enough to provide for great growth of public service companies in the future.

Practically all of the stocks of the companies named have been deposited with the Illinois Trust and Savings bank under the terms of the call sent out several weeks ago, and it is expected that the first steps in the organization will be taken within a week.

FORMER ANTIOCHERS ARE MARRIED AT LAWTON, OKLA.

Cards have been received here announcing the marriage of Miss Lulu Mack and Robert M. Herman, which took place at Lawton, Oklahoma, on Tuesday, October third.

Both young people were former residents of this village and both are well known to our readers in this vicinity. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mrs. Nettie Mack, formerly of Antioch but now of Minneapolis, Minn., and the groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Herman, who were also former residents of this place, but for the past few years have made their home at Lawton, Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman will make their future home at Lawton. The News joins with their Antioch friends in extending to them most hearty congratulations.

FIVE MILE ZONE IS TO BE URGED

R. P. Hobson says When Congress Opens he Will Push the Dead Line Bill

NO SALOONS FOR FIVE MILES

There Will be no Saloons Within Five Miles of Any Naval or Military Reservation, if the Bill is Passed

The expected has happened.

The Waukegan movement for a five mile dry zone about naval and military reservations in this state has broadened into a national one that will be fought out in the halls of the national congress.

It is not going to make any difference whether the Illinois legislature rejects a chance to pass a five mile limits bill or not, as Congress will surely have offered to it such a bill.

Rev. McGinnis received a letter from Congressman Hobson, the man who sunk the Merrimac in Santiago harbor, stating that he intended when Congress opened, to introduce and push for action a bill establishing a five mile dead line for saloons about naval stations.

This means that there is to be a two edge fight for passage of the bill, one in the Illinois legislature, another in Congress, and that if it is probable before the matter is through with that every liquor interest and every dry interest in the country will be lined up against and for the bills in the respective bodies, the fight beginning in Illinois and stretching from here to Washington.

In regard to the legislative fight, the Lake County Sunday School Association heard the following two resolutions, one favoring the five mile limit, the other commending State's Attorney R. J. Dady for his good work against the Sunday saloons of Waukegan.

"Whereas, the saloons of Waukegan and North Chicago, are a menace to the morals and efficiency of the men in training for the defense of our country at Fort Sheridan and the Naval Training School at North Chicago, and

"Whereas, a movement has been inaugurated to request the government to establish a five mile dry zone about said posts,

"Resolved, that we, the delegates to the Lake County Sunday School convention assembled at Libertyville give to the movement our unqualified sanction and support.

"Whereas, the saloons of Lake county has defied the laws of God and man regarding the Sabbath and

"Whereas Ralph J. Dady, state's attorney of said county is making laudable efforts to compel them to conform to the law.

Resolved, that we the Lake County Sunday School Association, convened at Libertyville, endorse his action and give to him our hearty support.

The machinery of the five miles dry zone movement will be as follows: Every church and Sunday school in the county including many Catholic congregations, is organized into a league to get to the five mile dry zone petitions.

The petitions are being extensively signed every day in the county and along the north shore.

The powerful aid of Father E. W. Gavin, Church of the Immaculate Conception, Waukegan, has been wholeheartedly enlisted.

The petitions, signed and attested, will be presented to President Howard Taft, Oct. 23, when he opens the naval school.

The president will refer them to Secretary of War John S. Stimson. Stimson will refer them to the Illinois legislature.

The Illinois legislature is not looked upon very hopefully as to the passage of the bill but may give a three mile limit, instead of a mile and an eighth.

Didn't Go Crazy Over It.

The inhabitants of Iowa St. Kilda heard the gramophone the other day for the first time. A steamer belonging to Messrs. McCallum of Glasgow touched at the island, and it was one of the passengers, Mr. Louis Barbe, who had the distinction of taking the first gramophone to the island. The stolid St. Kilda, however, failed to display the wide-mouthed wonder which was expected of him.

MISSING WOMAN FOUND

Lake Michigan Gives up Body of Miss Elsie Baldwin Who Disappeared Thursday

The body of the woman found floating in Lake Michigan near the city park at Lake Forest Saturday has been positively identified as that of Miss Elsie Baldwin, aged 35, a former Chicago school teacher, who lived at 3340 Park avenue.

F. W. Baldwin 4105 West Madison street, Chicago, went to Lake Forest and after viewing the body, claimed it as that of his daughter.

Mr. Baldwin said that his daughter up until last June had been a teacher at the Ferragut high school, but that then she was relieved from duty because of mental trouble and given a six months' furlough.

Her trouble he said was a sort of nervous breakdown. She was subject to fits of despondency, and once before, in April of this year, attempted to commit suicide by swallowing carbolic acid.

Mr. Baldwin said that his daughter lived with Mrs. Olson at 1815 Humboldt avenue, but inquiry there disclosed the fact that she had not been there for at least a month. Later it was found that she had roomed at the Park avenue address for about that length of time and disappeared on last Thursday.

Coroner Taylor of Libertyville presided at the inquest and it took but a short consultation of the jury men to return a verdict of death by drowning, with suicidal intent. The authorities and the girl's father scouted the story that the fit of despondency in which the act was committed was a result of disappointment in a love affair.

"Elsie was never a sentimental girl," said Mr. Baldwin, "and I doubt if she ever gave a man a second thought. She was wrapped up in her educational work, and I think it was her dismissal by the board of education, after a term of two years' successful service, that led her to commit the deed. Her ill health was always a cross far to bear, and coupled with the dismissal, caused the tragedy."

RELATIVES MUST PAY MAINTENANCE

A new order regarding the payment of the price of maintenance of inmates in state hospitals by blood relatives where they are financially able, is being put in force by President Sherman and the members of the state board of administration. During the last week the board has been busily engaged notifying relatives of the inmates of the provisions of the new state law.

The board has already become the victim of criticism on account of the new law. Relatives of the inmates are of the opinion that the new law is merely a ruling of the board. This is not true, as the board is merely following out its line of duty as defined by an act passed by the last legislature.

For years it has been necessary for blood relatives to pay the railroad fare of the inmates to the institution, and also for his or her clothing. All other expenses were borne by the state, but the new law provides that all expenses except medical attention, be paid by blood relatives, where they are able.

The average cost of maintenance of an inmate in one of the state hospitals is about $150 or $160 per year.

GURNEE RESIDENT PASSES AWAY AT HIS HOME

Henry Sheppard, who resided on a farm in Warren township just north of Lamb's Corners, died Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, following a rather lingering illness of creeping paralysis. His death while a great blow to his relatives and friends, did not come as a surprise as it was known for some time that it was merely a matter of hours.

Mr. Sheppard had lived in Warren township, Lake county the greater part of his life. He was recognized as one of the most prominent and wealthiest men in the county. He resided on and worked one of the finest farms in this part of the state. His pleasing personality won him many friends.

About a week ago he was stricken with creeping paralysis. At first it did not bother him much, but the disease spread slowly but surely, always reaching upward. After a time he lost the use of his lower limbs, then his body and arms. A short time ago he lost the use of his vocal chords and could convey no thoughts to his relatives. Physicians announced that he could live but a few days.

Mr. Sheppard leaves besides his wife, a daughter, Lola.

FACTORY HEAD IS ARRESTED

Books Betray W. C. Holt During Scarlet Fever Quarantine

IS PRISONER IN COUNTY JAIL

Holt is Head of the Holt Brother's Firm Which Manufacture Wool Dusters at Libertyville, Illinois

Betrayed by his books and records during a scarlet fever quarantine, during which he was confined to his home, W. C. Holt, Libertyville, manufacturer, head of Holt Brothers, manufacturers of wool dusters, is a prisoner in the Lake county jail, facing hearing at Libertyville, on charges of obtaining money on false pretenses, and for the second or third time in his life, it is alleged, is facing prison bars after which is claimed to be an unparalleled example of man's ingratitude to man.

The charge on which Holt is held is that he swindled his benefactor.

The specific offenses charged are that he forged invoices of goods sold so that Fred Enderlin, a Libertyville saloon keeper, advanced money on them to keep the Holt plan running and that he also, when bills for goods were paid by creditors, neglected to turn the money over to Enderlin, to whom it was due on advances.

The amount of his alleged defalcations is not known, but may reach between $4000 and $5000 as Holt is understood to admit that he has uncoined his benefactor, Enderlin, ever since the latter came to his aid in a hard pinch and rescued him from certain financial disaster.

What is back of Holt's actions in this case or in one or two other alleged instances of the same kind cannot be learned. Not a hard drinker, a good fellow apparently, a mighty smooth talker, an expert in his business, his plant doing well and the head of a fine family of three children, for whom his mother-in-law, Mrs. Hubbard, kept house, his wife, being dead, Holt's case is a genuine puzzle.

Holt's principal capital is the fact that he is an expert at the business of making wool dusters. Very few in the country understand as he does how to tan wool for the making of the dusters.

Holt first came from Chicago to North Chicago, where he started a factory.

It is alleged that he worked a Waukegan man, just as he did Enderlin, some years ago, but the Waukegan man, who is very wealthy, has never squealed, and there may be nothing to this particular phase but a tissue of gossip as the Waukegan man has never talked and probably never will, having a reputation for standing his losses without a whimper.

Holt was formerly the president and manager of the Holt Manufacturing company at Libertyville, now owned and operated by Frank Sullivan of Chicago.

It was charged two or three years ago by Sullivan that Holt manipulated the books and juggled the records, thus doing him out of about $2,000.

It was after Holt was ousted from this company that he organized the Holt Brothers' company. There is no brother connected with the company, it is said, this being a bluff of Holt's.

Enderlin had all the confidence in the world in Holt, who was his good friend and kept him going from the time the new plant which appeared to prosper, was started.

Then suddenly Libertyville just in fair time a few weeks ago had another short but strenuous epidemic of scarlet fever, and Holt contracted the disease, as did members of his household, and was confined to his home in quarantine by the Libertyville health authorities.

Enderlin took advantage of this fact to look over the books of the company of which he was voluntary backer, and his hair stood on end as he discovered, he alleges, as does his attorney, that Holt, it is claimed, had deliberately forged invoices on which Enderlin had advanced the money, and had also kept money already advanced but which Enderlin did not know had been paid in.

Holt, confronted with the books and the alleged conditions, is said to have thrown up his hands and admitted that Enderlin's disclosures are true. The arrest followed.

DRINKS THAT ARE UNUSUAL

"Acorn Cup" Is Liked by Tanners—
Peculiar Tipples of the Ironstone Workers.

Some men boast of knowing the taste of every drink except water. They do not. One tippie they have never sampled is "acorn cup," or "the liquor," the stuff in which hides are tanned into leather.

Made from oak bark and acorns and acorn cups, it has a sharp, bitter taste that is anything but agreeable to the ordinary palate, but the men engaged in some tanneries habitually drink it in small quantities—a wineglassful at a time is the limit—as a pick me up.

Another drink unknown to the general tippier is a favorite among ironstone workers. It is a natural product of a very curious kind. In the best sort of such stone are found hollow pieces, inside of which is about a pint of mush, a cold liquor with a sweet, sharp taste, and either red or white in color. Strangers seldom want more than one sip of mush, but the workers quaff it with avidity.

There are, too, many kinds of alcoholic products which are rarely if ever tasted outside particular trades. Methylated spirit is drunk not only by furniture polishers but by butchers and others who use it in their work, and it seems impossible to make it so vile that they cannot swallow it.

A man engaged in one of the shops of a London warehouse was found to be drinking considerable quantities of methylated spirit, whereupon the remainder of the stock was dosed with that noxious drug as aforesaid, which was thought, would make the stuff undrinkable. But the spirit actually disappeared faster than ever!

In the same way some of the alcohol used in scent works is drunk by those who have the handling of it, and some men engaged at drug warehouses get into the dangerous habit of taking "rips" of essences and the like. Not long ago a man employed by a large firm of wholesale chemists was seriously ill through long indulgence in the practice.—Tit-Bits.

Record for Chewing.

It might be well for those who adopt the one meal a day system to become chewers at the same time. A chewer, according to a dietetic expert, is one who chews all things so long as they have any taste in them. Gladstone, it is recorded, used to take 32 bites to every mouthful of food. This would be considered dangerously rapid eating by the modern school of chewers. "I have tried chewing conscientiously," writes Mr. Eustace Miles. "A banana has cost 800 bites, a small mouthful of bread and cheese 240 bites, a greedy mouthful of biscuit (while I was working on a Yorkshire moor) more than 1,000 bites. It still seemed to taste about as much as at first; but I knew that taste by then, so I swallowed."—London Chronicle.

The County Fair.

A thousand boyhood memories cluster round the county fair—the glorious autumnal weather, the joy of harvest, the strife for excellence, the greetings of friends. But it is the simplicity of the fun that is most worthy of remark. In these days of the costly show and spectacle, with theaters that are palaces and opera houses maintained by fabulous outlays, the inexpensive joys of the county fairs of the fathers are suggestive. There is nothing extravagant in the old fair. Yet for a royal good time and an amusement that was all-compensating and genuine it never had a rival.—New York Mail.

The Girl Who Helps Mother.

Why not give us a few moving pictures of the girl who helps mother? They are worth more than the Nan Pattersons, the Evelyn Thaws and the British Binfords, who appeal to nothing but morbid curiosity and a taste for tragedy and depravity. Why don't the film makers pay big prices to the real heroines to pose for human interest shows?—Washington Star.

Hard Hit.

"Did the recent drought hurt you farmers much?"
"I should say it did," answered Mr. Cornstossel. "We used to make a heap o' money haulin' out automobiles that got stalled. While that drought was on we couldn't afford to haul water to keep up some of our best mud holes."—Washington Star.

A Sedative.

"It's terrible to see the eccentricities of stock quotations," said the financier.
"Yes," replied the statesman "It's a pity we can't hold things to a standard course by feeding some governmental red tape into the stock ticker."

A Frank Preference.

"Doesn't your wife want the privilege of going to the polls and casting a ballot, as an enlightened and responsible citizen?"
"Yes," replied Mr. Groweber, "but she'd rather have a new hat."

Heard In Advance.

"Fathers of small boys report that their sons are much easier to manage now than they were a month ago."
"I'll bet I know why."
"You've seen the billboards?"
"Yes. A circus is coming to town."

SEVEN DIE, 24 HURT

FREIGHT CRASHES INTO MISSOURI
PACIFIC PASSENGER TRAIN NEAR FORT CROOK.

TWENTY-FOUR ARE INJURED

Surgeons at Army Post Render First Aid to Victims—Gov. Gilchrist of Florida Assists in the Work of Rescue.

Omaha, Neb.—As a result of a head-on collision between a north-bound passenger train and a fast freight on the Missouri Pacific railroad near Fort Crook, seven persons are dead and twenty-four are suffering from injuries more or less serious.

The injured were rushed to the post hospital and the surgeons from the fort were the first on the scene to give attention to those hurt.

The scene of the accident was within less than one mile of the post. The passenger was belated and was endeavoring to make up time. At this point the Missouri Pacific and Burlington are parallel and within 100 feet of each other. Each engineer thought the other train was on the Burlington track, a slight curve preventing a realization of the impending collision until the locomotives were within 100 yards of each other. The smoker completely telescoped the chair car, most of the dead and injured being in the latter car.

The dead:
F. W. Petring, Nebraska City, Neb.
O. W. Keeler, Atchison, Kan.
Mrs. Fred Rottman and daughter
Marcela, Nebraska City.
A. W. Sprague, St. Joseph.
Miss Frances Lillian Kaacka, actress, Seattle.

Unknown negro woman, forty years old.

The seriously injured are:
Fred Rottman, banker, Nebraska
City; head, back and legs injured.
W. G. Richards, Maynard, Neb.; internal injuries, leg broken.
John Scott, Omaha, engineer; internal injuries, head cut.

Governor Gilchrist of Florida was in the Pullman, but was uninjured. The governor rendered assistance to the injured before the arrival of the surgeons from Fort Crook.

TUB TRUST SMASHED

UNITED STATES TO PUSH CRIMINAL SUIT.Government Wins Case at Baltimore and Alleged Illegal Combination Must Dissolve.

Baltimore, Md.—The "bathub trust" is ordered dissolved. The government won its suit against the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing company and others, and a decree handed down by Judge John C. Rose in the federal circuit court held the concern to be in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act and a combination "unreasonably" restraining trade.

The decision is sweeping. Edwin P. Grosvenor, special assistant to the United States attorney, and United States District Attorney John Philip Hill of Baltimore, who conducted the case for the government, stated that the decision supports the government's contention on every point.

ELECTRIC LAMP TRUST HIT

Decision at Toledo Holds Concern Unlawfully Restrains Trade—Price Agreements Declared Unfair.

Toledo, O.—The dissolution of the "electric trust," as the General Electric company and its subsidiaries are known, was ordered here by Judge Kellits in a decree in the United States court.

The decision in favor of the government in the suit brought last summer under the Sherman law orders the General Electric company to conduct business under its own name only and orders the dissolution of the National Electric Lamp company and other subsidiaries. The General Electric has about 40 subordinate firms under its control.

The contention of the government was that the General Electric company and its subsidiary corporations had entered into an unlawful combination in restraint of trade.

Milwaukee.—Money was distributed so liberally by Senator Isaac Stephenson during his campaign for nomination at the primaries in 1908 that sums as great as $1,800 were paid out without any accounting ever being given or asked.

George H. Gordon, United States attorney for the western district of Wisconsin, so testified before the senatorial investigation committee. Before he held any public office, but while counsel for the Chicago & Northwestern railroad at La Crosse, Gordon said, he was paid $1,800 out of the $107,793 Stephenson campaign fund to be used in the senator's interest.

D. E. Riordan of Ashland, Wis., testified that he spent $3,200 of the Stephenson fund.

Scared by Steer; Dies.

TREASON IN PEKING

REBELLION SPREADS OVER ALL
CHINA—REPUBLIC REPORT-ED PROCLAIMED.

FOREIGN MARINES LANDED

Terror Reigns and Fires Rage in Hankow—Rebels Fail to Maintain Order—Prisoners Set Free, Pillage and Loot—Scores Killed.

Peking.—The rebellion is spreading rapidly. A well-defined rumor says that a republic has been declared at Wu-Chang and that the rebel leader at Hankow has notified the foreign consuls that a new government has been established.

Peking, 1,000 miles away from the rebel stronghold, in the center of the province is threatened with the fate of Hankow, a large part of which has been destroyed by fire and where hundreds of Manchus have been killed.

The government decided to concentrate its efforts to save Peking and unprecedented military activity within the walls of the great city is the result. Thirty thousand troops, who were to have departed for the military maneuvers at Kaitong, are on the move in the streets and several other divisions of the army are contributing for the suburbs.

That Peking can be saved is deemed impossible. The garrison is known to be partially disloyal and it is feared the first uprising will be the signal for a wholesale desertion, which can mean nothing less than the destruction of the city.

Chang and Yo-Chow have been taken and hundreds of their Manchu residents slain. A dispatch reports a battle at Chungking and predicts the early fall of that city.

The troops at the great military posts at Pootung and Tientsin, a few miles outside of this city, are reported to be ready to join the insurrectionists. It is reported that Chansha, the capital of Hunan, has been captured and that the yamens of the viceroys and the Tartar general have been burned.

Wild disorder prevails at Hankow. The revolutionists are making every effort to restore order in the city. Great numbers of criminals who were liberated from the prisons and the Hooligan element are pillaging and foraging what few buildings remain standing.

The foreigners have not been molested as yet. A division of allied foreign marines have landed to protect the foreign concessions. They are commanded by the Japanese admiral, Kowashima. The women and children were taken aboard the warships, of which there are two Americans, two Japanese, three British and one German. Standing a short distance from these ships is a Chinese squadron of six battleships. Several other foreign vessels are en route.

Funk Sued for Alienation.
Chicago.—Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the International Harvester company, has been sued for $25,000 damages by John Henning, who charges that Mr. Funk alienated the affections of Mrs. Henning.

Auto Accident Kills One.
Tuscola, Ill.—Willis Winn was killed and Mr. and Mrs. George Winn and a small son injured when their automobile skidded and turned a double somersault in the road while going at forty miles an hour.

PEACE OFFER MADE

TURKEY MAY ACCEPT ITALY'S PROPOSAL TO ANNEX TRIPOLI.Constantinople Paper Says 1,600 of Invading Army Are Slain—Correspondents Barred.

Constantinople.—Italy has made propositions that are expected to bring peace. It proposes to annex Tripoli and pay indemnity. Italy is to control all civil and military affairs, while the caliph is to be supreme in all religious affairs.

The Sabah publishes a dispatch stating that a large Italian force attacked a detachment of Turks entrenched in the hills outside of Tripoli and were repulsed after a long and severe battle. The Italian casualties are given as 1,600 killed and wounded.

Notice has been given to all Italian newspaper men in Turkey that they will be expelled in 24 hours.

Rome, Italy.—Four aeroplanes have arrived here from France. They will be sent to Tripoli, where it is proposed to make the first experiments in the use of flying machines in actual warfare. They will be piloted by Italian officers, who will undertake to drop bombs into the enemy's encampments.

WOMEN ARE GIVEN BALLOT

Late Returns in California Turn Defeat into Victory for Suffragist Amendment.

San Francisco, Cal.—Woman suffrage has triumphed in California. Straggling returns have wiped out the majority previously recorded against the amendment, and since this turn the margin in favor of the amendment has increased steadily. Totals show the result to be as follows: For suffrage amendment, 119,830; against, 117,779; majority for amendment, 2,051.

These figures represent the returns from 2,877 precincts out of 3,121 of the state. As virtually all of the remaining precincts are in counties which have given suffrage majorities, it is reasonable to suppose they will increase this margin.

ROYAL DUKE IN CANADA

Connaught Is Sworn In as New Governor of British Dominion with Imposing Ceremony.

Quebec.—The duke of Connaught, the new governor general of Canada, arrived in the harbor last night aboard the steamer Empress of Ireland. There was a crowd at the dock, but his royal highness and the duchess remained in their suite and only a few officials and friends gained the privilege of welcoming them to Canada.

The official landing of the duke and duchess took place this morning and the ceremony of swearing in the duke followed shortly afterwards in parliament.

Noted Spanish Bandit Taken.

CHANGE
IN WOMAN'S LIFEMade Safe by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.Granville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness
and other annoying
symptoms, and I can truly say that
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me, as it
restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell
my friends what
Lydia E. Pinkham's
Vegetable Compound
has done for me
during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter."—Mrs. CHAS. BARCLAY, R.D., Granville, Vt.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing woman's ills such as inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

IN THE LIVE BOX.

Some Shakespeare Statistics.
A Shakespearean enthusiast with a turn for statistics has discovered that the plays contain 106,007 lines and 814,780 words. "Hamlet" is the longest play, with 3,330 lines, and the
"Comedy of Errors" the shortest, with 1,777 lines. Altogether the plays contain 1,227 characters, of which 157 are females. The longest part is that of Hamlet. The part with the longest word in it is that of Costard in "Love's Labor Lost," who tells Moth that he is "not so long by the head as honorable illud in illud."

A Fly Parade.
First: Housefly—Howdy, old pal?
Whit sort of a season have you had?
Second Fly—Much the same as usual. Didn't take any outing this year. I'm at my old quarters in the liver stable.
First Fly—Pretty dull, I should say.
I've been in clover. That's right. If there ever was a fly Eden, I found it.
Listen. No serious baldheaded owner, baldheaded baby, flypaper easy to eat and three fat women who couldn't swat an elephant. I'm going back there next summer.

FROM TEXAS

Some Coffee Facts From the Lone Star State.

From a beautiful farm down in Texas, where gushing springs unite to form babbling brooks that wind their sparkling way through flowery meads, comes a note of gratitude for delivery
from the coffee habit.

"When my baby boy came to me
five years ago, I began to drink Postum, having a feeling that it would be better for him and me than the old kind of drug-laden coffee. I was not disappointed in it, for it enabled me, a small, delicate woman, to nurse a bouncing, healthy baby 14 months.

"I have since continued the use of Postum for I have grown fond of it, and have discovered to my joy that it has entirely relieved me of a bilious habit which used to prostrate me two or three times a year, causing much discomfort to my family and suffering to myself.

"My brother-in-law was cured of chronic constipation by leaving off coffee and using Postum. He has become even more fond of it than he was of the old coffee.

"In fact, the entire family, from the latest arrival (a 2-year-old who always calls for his 'pops' first thing in the morning), up to the head of the house, think there is no drink so good or so wholesome as Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a reason."

TELEPHONE POLES OF CACTUS

Arizona Government is Planning to Make Good Use of the Giant Saguaro.

Saguaro for telephone and telegraph poles is the latest idea and one that is to be tried out. It sounds plausible and it is believed that it will be more economical than the old style of poles. Its test is to come from Tucson.

The government is to build a telephone system for the forestry service of the Coronado forest reserve. This first of these lines to be built out of Tucson is to be used into the Catalina, and it is there that the saguaro experiment is to be tried.

Where they can be found in what approaches alignment, so that the line will not have a zig-zag too much, the saguaro up in the canons through which the line will pass are to be utilized for the purpose of attaching brackets to which the wires will be fastened. And so the secret is out.

Along the proposed line it is difficult to set poles, owing to the rocky nature of the country traversed. Not only is this the case, but it is difficult to get the poles up there in the hills to set, while the saguaros are right there in many instances, and while not at a uniform distance this is not considered important.

"A Perfect Saw."

"To say nothing and saw wood," seems to me one of the most sagacious phrases passed down by our hard working forebears. Like most sayings which have emanated from manual labor, this is blunt, homely, and, to the logically inclined, painfully accurate. Show me a man bent jack-knife-fashion over a saw-horse, with a short log under his back, and I will point out a man who is minding his own business with admirable zeal. If he must speak, he chooses to saw. While he saws he is necessarily mute. Hence this shrewd phrase, which is, punning aside, a perfect saw.—Atlantic.

YOUNG BEAVER'S DAY'S WORK

Record Made by One of the Animals in Regent's Park Gardens, London.

A young beaver in Regent's Park gardens, London, was once placed at work upon a tree 12 feet long and 2 feet 6 inches thick just as the cows clocks sounded the hour of noon. The beaver began by barking the tree a foot above the ground.

That done he attacked the wood. He worked hard, alternating his labor with dips in his bathing pond. He bathed and labored alternately until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when he ate his supper of bread and carrots and paddled about in his pond until half-past 5 o'clock.

Ten minutes later, when only one inch of the tree's diameter remained intact, he bore upon his work and the tree fell. Before it fell the beaver ran as men run when they have fired a blast. Then as the tree lay on the ground he portioned it out mentally and again began to gnaw.

He worked at intervals all night, cut the log into three parts, rolled two of the portions into the water, and reserved the other third for his permanent shelter. The work done, he took a bath.—Harper's Weekly.

Narrow Escape.
A domestic servant at Market Drayton had a narrow escape during a recent thunderstorm. The girl had retired to bed leaving the window open and an alarm clock on a chair near the bedside. She was awakened by the smell of burning clothing, and found that the lightning had pierced a hole through the clock and ignited the chair-seating. The clothes of the bed in which she was sleeping were also smouldering.

Some Oil Spouter.

The mammoth gusher of the Pearson oil interests in the Patro de Lino field, state of Vera Cruz, Mex., was recently allowed to perform for 20 minutes for officials of the Texas company and the Gulf Mining Refining company, according to the Mining and Scientific Press. The gate valve was opened for the first time since the well was brought under control, and a column of oil shot into the air to a height of 400 feet. The flow was estimated at 100,000 barrels daily. With the possible exception of the Das Doas gusher, which burned out, the Patro is the greatest in the history of the oil industry.

Good Prison Fare.

If what is said of French prisons be correct the wonder is that there are any people left outside. An official return of the necessities and luxuries supplied recently to the prison department shows that there is no stint. Among the edibles supplied are 84,000 tablets of chocolate, 17,000 kilograms of butter, 3,000 kilograms of coffee, 85,000 eggs, new laid, of course; 50,000 kilograms of Bologna sausage, 2,000 cheeses, 200 kilograms of caramels, and ten times that weight of other sweets. A kilogramme is nearly 2½ pounds.

FEMALE DIVERS OF JAPAN

Women Who Begin at 13 to Search for Pearls in the Coast Waters.

The pearl divers of Japan are women. Along the coast of the Bay of Ago and the Bay of Kokashu the thirteen and fourteen-year-old girls, after they have finished their primary school work, go to sea and learn to dive.

They are in the water and learn to swim almost from babyhood and spend most of their time in the water except in the coldest season, from the end of December to the beginning of February. Even during the most inclement of seasons they sometimes dive for pearls.

They wear a special dress, white undergarment and the hair twisted up into a hard knot. The eyes are protected by glasses to prevent the entrance of water. Tubs are suspended from the waist. A boat in command of a man is assigned to every five or ten women divers to carry them to and from the fishing grounds.

When the divers arrive on the grounds they leap into the water at once and begin to gather oysters at the bottom. The oysters are dropped into tubs suspended from their waists. When the vessels are filled the divers are raised to the surface and jump into the boats. They dive to a depth of from five to thirty fathoms without any special apparatus and retain their breath from one to three minutes.

Their ages vary from thirteen to forty years and between twenty-five and thirty-five they are at their prime.—Oriental Review

Peculiar Insect.

There is a peculiar insect, found in the Malay peninsula and called the "lantern fly," which is remarkable for its wings. It was only after several specimens had been captured by European naturalists and brought west for careful examination that it was discovered that a curious projection on the front of the insect's head, a kind of nose with a crease in it, was the leaping organ. When bent back under the abdomen and suddenly released it sends the little creature flying.—Harper's Weekly.

Old-Time Gardens.

In the dark ages a garden was only a patch of "simples" tended by a patient inebriated monk. But the Italian garden of the day of Lorenzo de Medici had become all that the garden wisdom, skill and expenditure could make. A formal garden of the Villa Falconieri, more than five centuries old, is still considered the most beautiful and dignified ornamental garden in the world, a painter's and a poet's dream of cool, clear pools and stately cypresses. In Japan they go so far as to make every look one gets over walls or through windows a perfect picture.
